

ALL ABOUT me

Hello! I'm Shaira Wednesday

My hobby:

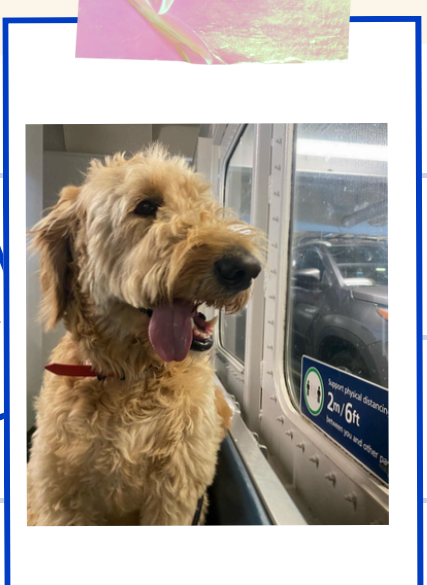

I was born and raised in the Philippines. I am a public elementary school teacher back home. I have chosen to pursue Early Childhood Education to further enhance my skills and be equipped with modern theories. I have tried a lot of things to do after being here for a year, and I can say that I am in my hiking era. I hike every Sundays together with my Hiking Club. It's such a satisfying feeling to be able to connect with nature as well as connect with yourself while doing something you love. I experience the same feeling when I get to work and connect with children, they learn something from me, and I learn something from them as well.

Favorite colors:

Things that make me happy:

- Time with family & friends
- Hiking/Weekend Adventures
- Cooking/Baking
- Bubble Tea
